ACHESON'S MAN TRIES TO ENTHUSE CHARLEROI FOLKS

Few Persons Attend Keystone Party Meeting.

MAY ORGANIZE LATER ON

Preliminaries Gone Through for Forming Club--Want to Hire Hall.

With about ten persons present, what the Washington Observer characterizes "a rousing meeting" of Keystone party adherents was held at the home of C. W. Black on Washington avenue last night, and a sort of organization formed, to be perfected when more interest can be stirred up, and some money with which to hire a hall can be secured. Osborne Mitchell, Esq., who used to work for Ernest F. Acheson on the Washington Observer and who endeavors to walk in the same political lines that erstwhile politician does, came all the way from Washington to attend the meeting, and as he says it to theObserver, made the principal address.

An executive committee was appointed consisting of a few who were at the meeting and some more who were not, but who were considered fit subjects. They were: B. F. Wilson, J. C. Saunders, William Armbruster, William Flohr, James Holshu, James Myers, John Holshu, S. B. Pegg, Frank McIlvaine and E. H. Arrison.

Black was the chairman of the affair. To make Mr. Berry and the rest of his colleagues think that there was "something doing" for him in Charleroi a telegram was sent to him telling him the welcome news that "The Keystone Club of Charleroi" had been organized and conveying the questionable information that the Monongahela valley was with hm. A proposition to have here Robert K. Aiken, Esq., of New Castle, and Congressional Candidate Henry H. Wilson, of Beaver on the Democratic ticket, whom Acheson and the Keystoner's indorse, some time in the future in a tardy effort to stir up some enthusiasm for some other man that John K. Tener was advanced, and met with the assent of those few present. It is planned to hire the hall now occupied by the "Volunteers of America" on Fifth street to hold meetings whenever possible.

Foust Wants Sausage Tried

Food Commissioner Has Hunch That Some of Fall Product is Off.

Dairy and Food Commissioner James Foust has ordered some wholesale sampling of sausages being sold in Pennsylvania owing to a suspicion that some of the fall product is not what it should be. It is said at the capitol that samples of sausage taken in several cities have shown the supposed delicacies to contain more flour than meat In fact, very little meat could be found in a dozen or more samples, the bulk of it being flour, worth three cents a pound. Five arrests for the sale of such sausage were ordered in Cambria county.

Live Stock Selling at Unusual Price

Cattle Bringing More Now in This Vicinity Than Ever Before.

The high prices of live stock as selling in this part of the State shows reason for the present high price of food products and especially milk and meat The average price for good dairy cattle, Holsteins, is $90, while Jerseys sell for an average price of $75 or $80. The price of cattle for butchering correspond, and hogs are selling at an almost unprecedented price.

MINE HAS TO CLOSE; LACK OF FLATS CAUSE

Pittsburg Harbors and Landings Along Local River Congested With no Promise of Immediate Relief.

According to reports another mine along the valley, the Eclipse, has been forced to close through inability to secure flats on which to load coal There has been no boating stage in the Ohio river for weeks. Coal has been loaded into all the available craft and they are now being held in the Pittsburg harbor and along the valley awaiting a rise.

A large number of men will be thrown out of employment for the time being at the Eclipse mine. Other mines along the river, it is stated, are closed down. In the Monongahela river there is a nine foot stage of water the year around, making shipments of coal possible at all time but in the Ohio there is no lock and dam system that coal can be sent out only at period of high water.

TEACHING GERMAN WITH NEW METHOD

High School Instructor Obtains Best of Results Through Originality

To obtain the best results in the teaching of the German language in high school, a combination of methods used most effectively in colleges and other institutions, has been adopted much of which was originated by Miss Mary Walters, the German instrutor. Miss Walters has under her instruction a class of twelve beginners in German, composing the senior class of high school. These she has started on reading exercises without taking up the grammar, with a view of getting the pupils to master the pronounciation, before they begin work on the latter. This Miss Walters denotes "the study of German for the language's sake." By this method and by the conversational method she hopes to establish a far greater interest among the students than could otherwise be obtained. In college and academies it is the custom to start pupils on the study of grammar before they take up reading and pronunciation.

SCOTTDALE GAS COMPANY ANGRY

Threatens to Shut Off Supply to Consumers if Affairs Aren't Righted.

The Fayette County Gas company has notified the borough council of Scottdale that the directors of the company "consider it inexpedient to furnish gas to the residents of Scottdale under the existing agreement," and that the gas will be shut of December 16. Under the present agreement the company is required to furnish gas at a uniform rate of 25 cents a thousand feet.

The company recently raised the price to 30 cents and the matter is to be taken into court in an effort to have the company live up to its original agreement. This latest notice is considered an attempt to head off the proposed legal proceeding, or to get a new agreement. Practically every family in the borough uses gas.

MANY OLD QUILTS BEING DISPLAYED

One Made 180 Years Ago Owned by Charleroi Woman.

A collection of old quilts that would be hard to beat is on display at Berryman's store now. This is the Charleroi entries in a contest being conducted by the Reddisode Cotton Batting company over the United States. There are 29 quilts entered, made by the grandmothers of years ago.

The oldest quilt on display is one owned by Mrs. W. H. Mincks of Fallowfield township it having been quilted by an Ohio woman 180 years ago. It is not particularly unique in design, its age drawing attention. Other quilts are on display 90 years old, 79 years old, 75 years, and on down to as short a time as 10 years. Some of them are of most artistic design. Eventually prizes will be awarded by the Reddisode company for quilts age, historical connection, design and workmanship to be considered.

Sullivan.

Hunters Cause Land Owners Much Annoyance.

INSUFFICIENT PROTECTION

Little Recourse Now For Damages Done to Farms and Live Stock.

With the opening of the hunting season begins trouble for farmers and land owners, owing to trespassing on the part of hunters Not only are the farmers of this community subject to untold annoyance on the part of trespasss, but their property is damaged and in many instances the lives of the owners and their live stock is endangered by reckless shooting. All the recourse the farmer has is prosecution under the trespass laws of the State, which requires a warrant, and as most trespassers are unknown and escape before information can be made against them, the farmers in most instances are powerless to protect their property.

To meet this emergency the State Department of Agriculture has recommended to the farmers that they advocate the passage of a Gun License Law, which will provide that every person carrying a gun in the State must pay a small license fee, of perhaps one dollar, for the privilege of so doing, and that when hunting he must carry this license, giving his name and address, and must show it on request of every property owner on whose premises he hunts. The proposed law absolutely forbids carrying firearms by unnaturalized foreigners and boys under 16 years of age. It would also provide that no one could enter upon the premises of another to hunt without written permission from the owner.

The present law defines trespass as entering upon another person's posted premises, and imposes a penalty of $10 for so doing. However, it is necessary for the notice to contain the words "This is private property," and also give warning against trespassing under penalty of the law. Damage is not necessary as a basis for action for trespass, but there are some peculiar conditions at present which are unfavorable to the farmer. He must know the name of the trespasser and procure a warrant for his arrest. He does not receive any part of the $10 fine, if the suit is successful, but if he should lose he must pay the costs. The fine goes to the school fund instead of the Game Commission.

Under the proposed law refusal to show his license by the hunter would give legal authority at once for the farmer or land owner to lay hands upon him and forcibly detain or arrest him without a warrant, with penalty of $25, part of which would go to the land owner. A Gun License Law is now in successful operation in every State but 12, and it is believed that the enactment of the proposed law in this State will make fairer conditions to both true sportsmen and property owners.

The Bryan Candidate

That the third party has made no headway in this campaign is not at all surprising By its profession of principles it has followed nobody and there are many potent reasons why the people will not vote for its candidate for Governor, William H. Berry, should he decide to remain on the ticket.

For instance, imagine a Bryan Democrat Governor of this State. Mr. Berry is that sort of Democrat and does not hesitate to say so. Of course, Bryan is down and out. The people attended to his case long ago. But many of the things for which Bryan stood are still to be reckoned with. Mr. Berry was so enthusiastic over Bryan that he was a candidate for Congress on a Bryan platform. In his public utterances in this campaign he repeatedly had stated that he is a Democrat. He was highly gratified over the result of the election in Maine, where Republican factionalism enabled the Democrats to elect their State ticket and a legislature which will choose a Democratic United States Senator. Mr. Berry has a perfect right to indorse the principles of the Bryan Democracy, but having done this, why should he expect Republicans to vote for him?

Will any sensible Republican vote for the Bryan candidate for Governor? Will any sensible Republican vote for Bryan Democratic candidates for Congress and the State Legislature, whom Mr. Berry has indorsed? Does any sensible Republican know of a reason why he should vote the Keystone ticket for any candidate on that ticket? The Republicans present as their candidates men, who, without exception, admittedly are qualified for the offices for which they have been nominated. They are public spirted citizens of high character and they have the confidence of the people. They stand upon a model Republican platform and their election will insure a continuance of good government in this State.

A vote for the Keystone ticket will be a vote for the Democratic party. In nearly every Congressional district the third party has indorsed Democratic candidates. Mr. Berry and his associates are endeavoring to elect members of Congress who will assist Champ Clark and other National Democratic leaders in their plans to "reduce the tariff to a revenue basis." Pennsylvania wants precious little tariff reduction by the Democratic party. From every viewpoint the best interests of this State demand that Mr. Berry shall be elected to stay at home by a very large majority.

Unmasked

Now that W. H. Berry, Keystone candidate for Governor, has signified his willingness to withdraw in case a deal can be made with the Democratic patry, by which only one ticket will appear in the field, his purpose is fully revealed. Personlly Mr. Berry is a Democrat, and when it became apparent beyond the question of a doubt that the cause of the Keystone party is so absolutely hopeless as to become ridiculous, Mr. Berry and his supporters have decided to turn their forces over to the Democratic party if a satisfactory deal can be made that will retain Mr. Berry on the ticket in a lower capacity than as Governor. A conference of the Democratic and Keystone executive committees is being held in Philadelphia today to try to effect fusion

This reveals more fully the purport and intent of the malcontents who engineered the Keystone movement. Their sole purpose was to try to defeat the Republican ticket because of personal disappointments and rancors. By tying up with the Democrat party they have no isues but the Democratic platform to make a fight on and this is not conducive to the industrial conditions of the State. Free trade and tariff for revenue only will not be accepted by the voters of the Commonwealth. Under the guise of turning the Republicans out of the control of State affairs Mr. Berry and his following hope to capture a member of Congressmen in the State who will be committed to the policy of free trade. For that reason the Keystone party indorsed Democratic Congressmen wherever they had a chance.

The Keystone party has no issue but opposition. That is why they now propose going over to the Democratic party. They are not for anything: they are simply against things that are.

A Gun License

The proposition of the State Agricultural Department that farmers and sportsmen advocate the passage of an act requiring a license for carrying a gun or firearms for hunting purposes, should command the thoughtful attention of all interested persons. To the disinterested ones it looks like a good proposition for the protection of farmers and property owners, and the fact that such a law is in successful operation in all but twelve of the States inclines one to the belief that there is merit in the proposition.

One of the objections that is likely to be interposed is an interference with and an abridgement of personal rights and liberties. The United States constitution give citizens the rights to bear arms, but it does not specify time, place nor condition. When the right to bear arms very materially interferes with the property rights of others, and endangers life besides, it is time to interpose restriction. This the various states have the right to do, and it is in this interest that the proposed gun license law is advocated for this State.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

I never saw a purple cow,
I don't expect to see one;
But from the milk I'm drinking now,
I know that there must be one.

Insanity offers a mighty poor excuse for some people committing crimes.

It's a question just how many working children really work.

As an able reflector of Acheson's political dope the Canonsburg Notes might more fittingly be called the Canonsburg "Echo."

Mr. Acheson's morning paper, "The Observer, and his evening paper, The Reporter" doesn't think Mr. Tener is fit to be Governor, yet Mr. Acheson himself, who consented to Monongahela becoming wet, more than once aspired to the nomination for Governor.

Up in Greene county, the home of the narrow gauge, for style they call one or two of the trains which manage to wiggle daily between Waynesburg and Washington, "express" trains. What grounds they have for that is beyond us.

Col. Roosevelt believes in the Republicans turning their own rascals out. That's what they did in Washington county two years ago.

Former Congressman Acheson doesn't like Pennsylvania's primary law. No wonder. It lost him his job.

"Another milkman charged with selling bad milk" states a headline. Just another one

Charleroi will feel terribly insulted if William Berry passes us by. The people want to see if he curls his mustache as pictured.

The Republican party hasn't E. E. Acheson's support, but it has his goat all right.

Gibboney, who is alleged to be an attorney out in Philadelphia, has a job, so of course it is not to be expected that he can carry on his campaign effectively.

ELECTRICITY PROVIDED FOR LOCK RESIDENTS

Recognizing Lock No. 4 as a coming residence centre the West Penn Electric company is installing service on the hill of that place for commercial and domestic use. Heretofore the company had arc lights on the hill as well as in other parts of the borough. The hill section of North Charleroi since recent improvements were made, has become a popular residence section and many buildings are going up, with lot owners planning to erect more.

The Cry of the Age is "Back to the Farm"

With the best market in the world at his door, the intensive farmer located in the Monongahela valley is the wise man of his generation.

Every town has as much need of the small truck, fruit and poultry farms around it as it has for more factories. Such farms make living better and cheaper for the laboring man and more business for the merchant.

I have secured control of a large farm within five minutes walk of the borough limits and will, within the next six weeks, sell it out in small farms. I now have purchasers for about one-half of it and owing to the great demand for small farms near Charleroi expect to close all sales for these farms in a very short time.

A farm big enough for all the boys to work as a truck, poultry and fruit farm while the father works at the mill, can be bought for the price of a cheap town lot. Good country school nearby.

A farm big enough to require the whole time of one intensive farmer can be bought for $500.00. Read the Pittsburg papers about the great land show which will be held there within the next few weeks and learn what can be raised on a few acres of ground by the new methods of intensive farming.

Call at the office of Charles O. Frye, 511 Washington Avenue, and get full particulars.

SPELLING BEE IS A FEATURE

With the spelling bee as the feature an old fashioned literary society social was held by the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church last night at the church. The affair was well attended and a snug sum was realized. A literary program of much merit was rendered as follows:

Violin solo—Master Darwin Barth.
Vocal solo—Doss James.
Impromptu class conducted by Lambert Beaton—W. A. Swick, W. D. Pollock, Miss May Barth, Miss Winifred Martin.
Piano duet—Misses Elma Lutes and Rosa Vetter.
Dialogue—Miss Florence Crill, Miss Winifred Martin, Lou Mitchel.
Periodical—Floyd Chalfant.

The spelling bee was conducted by W. A. Swick of the high school, and D. S. Willard, the high school principal succeeded in spelling all down, carrying off the honors for his side. Refreshments were served by the social committee of which Miss Mildred Lowstuter is chairman.

GOOD SHOW COMING TO COYLE THEATRE

Great interest is being evinced in the coming engagement of the "Rajah of Bhong company" which will play at the Coyle Theatre first three days beginning October 3. Coming as it does from the big time and presenting an array of talent never before seen at popular prices, Manager Penman is to be congratulated upon securing attractions of this class. James T. Crowley is America's foremost exponent of German Comedy, being entirely away from the many so-called German Comedians now playing this time. A. H. Steppe is one of the coming Hebrew Comedians, his clever work causing favorable comment whenever seen. Miss Georgia Ahl will be seen as the Princess. Her charming personality and natural ability as a performr caused her to rank high in her chosen profession. The Four Dancing Ponies, in their novelty electrical act entitled the "Bathing Girls" present one of the most novel acts ever seen in vaudeville. The performance will conclude with the "Rajah of Bhong," which will be presented with entire strength of the company. This little musical comedy is described by all to be a sure cure for the blues. 46tl

Legally Better Off.

The creditors of the ancient king had become so unpleasantly insistent that he resolved to put them where they could trouble him no more. So he invited them to a great banquet, and when they had feasted and drunk of his prepared wine he instructed his servants to convey them to his deepest dungeons. And the next morning when he went down to learn whether his servants had done his bidding his creditors raised their voices and entreated to be set free. But he remonstrated with them, saying:

"My friends, you have no just cause for complaint. Are you not better off in the eye of the law than ever before? Any lawyer will tell you that a secured creditor has an exceptional cinch." Then he left them and went on his gladsome way, happy in the knowledge that he could at last go through his dominions without being dunned.—Chicago News.

Masculine Music.

The musical doctor stepped into the shop.

His hair stuck out like stiff straws, and his joy of life was under his arm; also two buttons on his waistcoat were undone. So there was no doubt about his being a genius.

"Aha, ahem, ahum!" purred the musical doctor. "E string for a violin, please."

The man behind the counter looked flustered. He went to the shelf, took off a small packet, examined it carefully, examined it again and then hesitatingly returned to the customer.

"I beg your pardon, sir," he began diffidently, "but this 'appens to be my first day in the shop, and yer might give me a little 'elp. The fact is these 'ere strings look all alike to me,-an' I can't tell the 'es from the shes!"—London Globe.

Firearms In Russia.

As an illustration of how closely everything is watched in Russia, take its system of registering firearms. When a weapon of any kind is purchased a permit must be secured from the local authorities. The name of the man who makes the purchase, with the number of the weapon, is recorded. If the purchaser ever wants to dispose of the weapon he must notify the authorities and cause the transfer to be recorded on the books of the firm which sold it.

"Pins and Needles"

After being for a long time in a constrained attitude a peculiar numbness and pricking are often felt in the arm, leg or foot. This is caused by some interruption to the circulation and can usually be removed by rubbing or exercise. The reason of the sensation, which is decidedly uncomfortable while it lasts, is that pressure for a certain length of time deadens the sensibility of a nerve. When this pressure is suddenly removed, as straightening out the leg after sitting with it doubled underneath the body, sensibility gradually returns to the nerve, and as each nerve fiber composing the trunk regains its normal condition of sensibility a pricking sensation is felt, and these successive prickings from the successive awakenings of the numerous fibers have not inaptly been called "pins and needles."

The Prayer That Hurt.

A member of a certain Massachusetts parish prominent for his thrift and personal consequence was also notorious for his overbearing assumptions and pompous airs. Under the distress and fright of a dangerous illness he "put up notes" on several successive Sundays, and after his recovery, according to usage, he offered a note to be read by the minister expressive of his thanks. The minister was somewhat "large" in this part of his prayer, recalling the danger and the previous petitions of the "squire" and returning his grateful acknowledgments with the prayer that the experience might be blessed to the spiritual welfare of the restored man. He closed with these words:

"And we pray, O Lord, that thy servant may be cured of that ungodly strut, so offensive in the sanctuary."

DIFFERENCES IN FOGS.

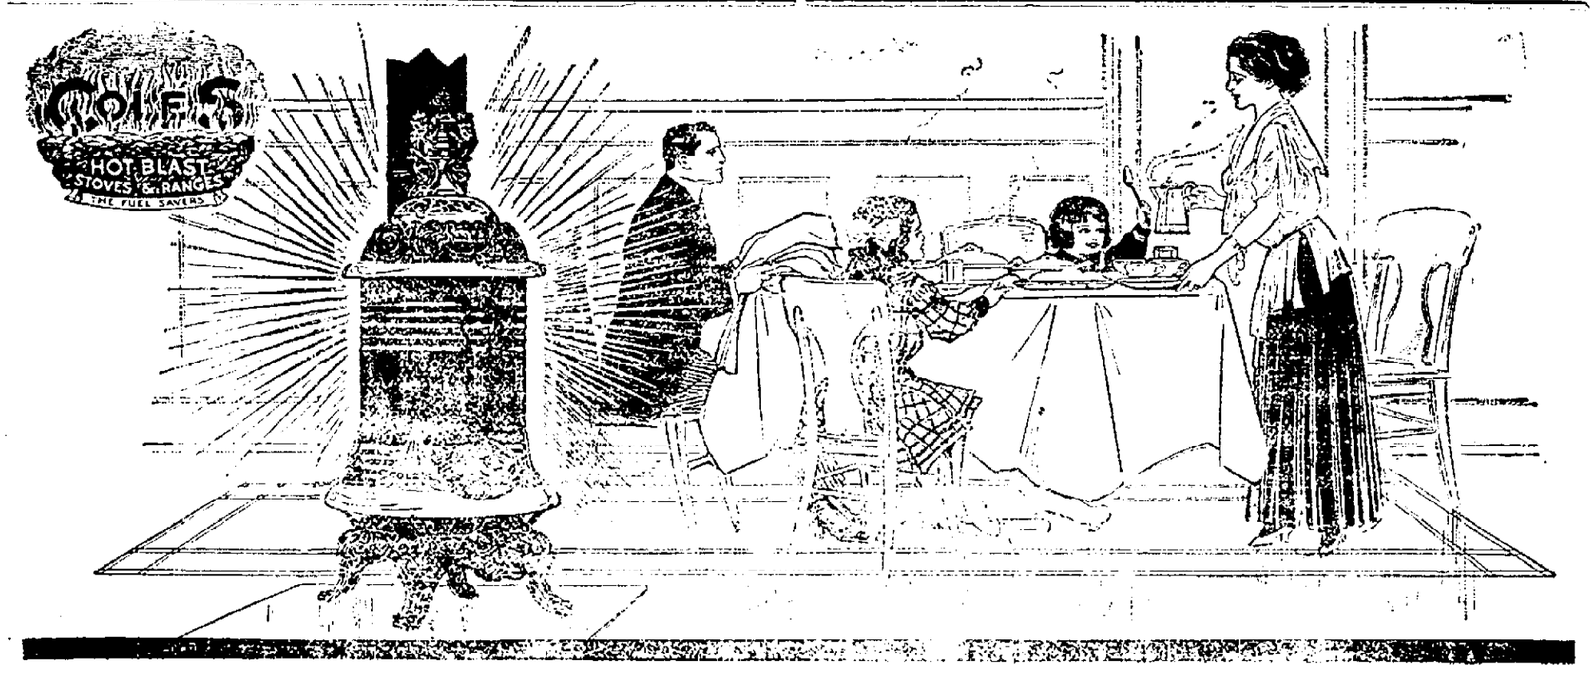
Sea Mist and London Gloom Have Nothing In Common.

The fog of London and the fog of the sea alike discompose traffic, and omnibuses and steamships alike have had to lay to for safety. But while the London fog gets into your inmost room and [illegible] —though the candle comes out triumphant curiously—the [illegible] at sea does not disturb the saloon or the stateroom. Why is that?

The word "fog" has not been traced further back than the sixteenth century, but the thing was known in the early years of the fourteenth. The commons, with the prelates and nobles visiting London for the parliaments and on other occasions, united to petition Edward I. to compel the burning only of dry wood and charcoal, as the growing use of sea coal corrupted the air with its stink and smoke, to the great prejudice and detriment of health. In 1308 the king prohibited the use of coal. Heavy ransom and fines were inflicted for disobedience. In the case of recalcitrant brewers, dyers and other artificers the furnaces and kilns were destroyed. But the restriction was evidently removed, for in 1308 $250—probably equal to about $4,000 now—was paid from the exchequer for wood and coal for the coronation of Edward II. — London Graphic.

Conscience is not an indicator of what is right. That is the province of wisdom based on knowledge. Conscience is the divine imperative impelling us to do what we believe to be right.

A whole lot of people never blame the fool for parting from his money until after it is all gone.—Philadelphia Inquirer.



Your Breakfast Room Made Comfortable With Fuel Supplied the Night Before

Cole's Hot Blast Heater maintains a continuous fire—also a steady even heat. It will hold fire from Saturday night until Monday morning (48 hours) without attention. It will hold fire over night with less coal than any other stove.

Open the drafts in the morning and the rooms are quickly heated with the fuel put in the night before. No other stove does this.

Burns Soft Coal, Slack, Siftings, Hard Coal or Lignite. One ton of either kind of fuel goes further and gives you more comfort than two tons, using any other kind or make of stove.

Your attention is called to the unparalleled statement made by the manufacturer of

Cole's Hot Blast Heating Stove

"For several years we have authorized our Agents to sell Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater on the guarantee as follows:

"1—A saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size, with soft coal, slack or lignite.
"2—That Cole's Hot Blast will use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner made with the same size fire pot.
"3—That the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning with the soft coal or hard coal put in the stove the evening before.
"4—That the stove will hold fire with soft coal from Saturday night until Monday morning.
"5—A uniform heat day and night, with soft coal, hard coal or lignite.
"6—That every stove will remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.
"7—That the feed-door is and will remain smoke and dust-proof.
"8—That the Anti-Puffing Draft will prevent puffing.
"All we ask is that the stove shall be operated according to directions and connected with a good flue.
"(Signed) COLE MANUFACTURING CO., Not Inc."
(Makers of the Original Patented Hot Blast Stove.)

This remarkable guarantee from the makers of this stove should be of interest to you if you contemplate buying a heating stove.

Years of use has proven that no heater—at twice the price—equals it for radiating heat, for holding fire, requiring so little attention, never giving trouble, and cutting down your coal bill one-third to one-half.

Come in and examine Cole's Original Hot Blast which is now imitated by nearly every other stove manufacturer. Price $12.00 and upward, according to size.

No other Heater Nearly as Good.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Albani and Gye.

The story of Mme. Albani's first London engagement is as follows: Colonel Mapleson heard of her singing at a theater at Malta, and, thinking that she would be successful, he made her an offer through an agent of a contract to sing in Her Majesty's theater. She agreed to it and went to London, but on arriving there she told the cabman to drive her to the Italian opera house. He, instead of going to Her Majesty's, took her to Covent Garden, which was also devoted to Italian opera. She was shown up to the manager's office and stated that she had come to sign the contract which Mr. Mapleson had offered her. Mr. Gye, thinking to play a joke on his rival, Mapleson, made out a contract, and Albani signed it. Mr. Gye then told her that he was not Colonel Mapleson, but that he could do much better by her. He offered to tear up the contract if she liked, but told her that Nilsson was singing at Her Majesty's and would brook no rival. Albani decided to let the contract stand and thus became one of the stars of Covent Gardens, eventually marrying the son of Mr. Gye.

His Final Plea.

A Chicago man appeared at the White House one day during the McKinley administration with a petition containing 7,000 names recommending him for appointment as Brazilian minister. He was a picture framer, and when he was canvassing for names he took along his petition and asked everybody in the picture frame business to sign it. Almost everybody did.

The man was insistent and finally reached the president. Always gentle and considerate, President McKinley explained to the candidate that he would have to consult the Illinois senators and representatives about the matter before making the appointment.

"You know," said the president, "we have to select big men for these big places."

"Well," asked the picture framer, "won't I be just as big as any of them if I get the job?"—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

The Lost Umbrella.

"I have been coming here for my lunch for years, but never again," said a man to the head waiter of a downtown restaurant recently. "Sorry," began the waiter. "Sorry nothing. I left [illegible] here not five minutes ago, [illegible] near our table, and [illegible] must have seen it." "If [illegible] "Find it? [illegible] and I'll have it now [illegible] see me here again." [illegible] with excitement [illegible] way when he was halted [illegible] and entered by the [illegible] Frank, is this your umbrella? I picked it up when we finished lunch. Glad you were still here." "Here, but not still," the head waiter whispered. "The umbrella has been found, but our customer has been lost for a few days. He'll be ashamed to come in for a little while."—New York Tribune.

Gone For Good.

Some folks in foreign lands have their own way of determining whether their relatives who have migrated to this land of ours have become hopelessly Americanized. One old lady in Germany reached her conclusion in a way that can be appreciated only by those who know the type of the German butter dish, deep as a bowl, and the German reverence therefor. Last week her granddaughter in New York received this sad lament:

"You will never come back. You are lost to us. Hans (a cousin) arrived here from New York on Monday and reports that you have even given up our deep German butter dishes and are using those shallow little plates that Americans like."—New York Times.

Modern Kids.

"So you love your new little brother?" asked the visitor. "Well, dearie, will you sell him to me? I'll give you $1 for every ounce he weighs."

"No, I won't!" answered the angel child.

"Dear, loyal little sister!" beamed the visitor. "And why not?"

"Because," answered the tiny tot, with a quivering lip—"because he only weighs six pounds. Come back next month an' I'll see if we can't make a deal."—Cleveland Leader.

His Weak Point.

A man who takes a business view of things when recently asked his opinion of a person of quite a poetic temperament replied:

"Oh, he's one of those men who have soarings after the infinite and divings after the unfathomable, but who never pay cash."

The Case Altered.

Brown—Is it correct to speak of a man as "of the male persuasion?"

Jones—Yes, if the subject is not married.

"What has that to do with the matter?"

"Why, when he is married his wife persuades him."

Recipe For Longevity.

People live longer in North Carolina than anywhere else in the world, chiefly because they lead the simple life, drink buttermilk and eat blackberries fresh in summer and dried in winter.—Raleigh News and Observer.

No Profit in It.

"What are you kicking about? She returned all the presents, didn't she?"

"Yes, but the expressage amounted to more than the presents were worth!"

SAVED DAUGHTERS LIFE

This Father Refused to Let His Daughter Die

Here is a story with a moral that many parents might take to heart.

"My daughter was very pale, nervous, thin and suffered with severe pain in her back, so that we took her out of school. Her flesh became blue and she could not retain her urine. I spent over $100 for medicines, but she grew worse. Finally I bought a bottle of Thompson's Barosma and she began to grow better right away. Five bottles of Thompson's Barosma made a complete cure, and today she is a perfectly healthy girl. Thompson's Barosma saved her life, for she was failing so fast that death was not far off."—Frank D. Meede, Pleasantville, Pa.

This letter will not surprise many good people in Charleroi and vicinity who know from actual expeience what Thompson's Barosma, the safe and sane treatment and certain cure for all kidney, liver and bladder diseases will do.

If you are troubled with backache, sideache, weakness in the back, or any liver or kidney trouble, then it's time for Thompson's Barosma.

W. F. Hennings sells Thompson's Barosma in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00 and he guarantees it to cure Bright's disease, diabetes, high colored urine, bed wetting, and all other kidney and liver diseses. It will make anyone vigorous in a few weeks, because it is a great tonic and maker of rich red blood.

ACHESON'S MAN TRIES TO ENTHUSE CHARLEROI FOLKS

Few Persons Attend Keystone Party Meeting.

MAY ORGANIZE LATER ON

Preliminaries Gone Through for Forming Club--Want to Hire Hall.

With about ten persons present, what the Washington Observer characterizes "a rousing meeting" of Keystone party adherents was held at the home of C. W. Black on Washington avenue last night, and a sort of organization formed, to be perfected when more interest can be stirred up, and some money with which to hire a hall can be secured Osborne Mitchell, Esq., who used to work for Ernest F. Acheson on the Washington Observer and who endeavors to walk in the same political lines that erstwhile politician does, came all the way from Washington to attend the meeting, and as he says it to theObserver, made the principal address.

An executive committee was appointed consisting of a few who were at the meeting and some more who were not, but who were considered fit subjects. They were: B. F. Wilson. J. C. Saunders William Armbruster, William Flohr, James Holshu, James Myers, John Holshu, S. B. Pegg. Frank McIlvaine and E. H. Arrison.

Black was the chairman of the affair. To make Mr. Berry and the rest of his colleagues think that there was "something doing" for him in Charleroi a telegram was sent to him telling him the welcome news that "The Keystone Club of Charleroi" had been organized and conveying the questionable information that the Monongahela valley was with hm. A proposition to have here Robert K. Aiken, Esq., of New Castle and Congressional Candidate Henry H. Wilson, of Beaver on the Democratic ticket, whom Acheson and the Keystoner's indorse, some time in the future in a tardy effort to stir up some enthusiasm for some other man that John K. Tener was advanced, and met with the assent of those few present. It is planned to hire the hall now occupied by the "Volunteers of America" on Fifth street to hold meetings whenever possible.

Foust Wants Sausage Tried

Food Commissioner Has Hunch That Some of Fall Product is Off.

Dairy and Food Commissioner James Foust has ordered some wholesale sampling of sausages being sold in Pennsylvania owing to a suspicion that some of the fall product is not what it should be. It is said at the capitol that samples of sausage taken in several cities have shown the supposed delicacies to contain more flour than meat In fact, very little meat could be found in a dozen or more samples, the bulk of it being flour, worth three cents a pound. Five arrests for the sale of such sausage were ordered in Cambria county.

Live Stock Selling at Unusual Price

Cattle Bringing More Now in This Vicinity Than Ever Before.

The high prices of live stock as selling in this part of the State shows reason for the present high prices of food products and especially milk and meat The average price for good dairy cattle, Holsteins, is $90, while Jerseys sell for an average price of $75 or $80. The price of cattle for butchering correspond, and hogs are selling at an almost unprecedented price.

Each member entertains in turn the club. The officers of the club are. Mrs. John B. Myers, president; Miss Elizabeth Morgan, vice president; Mrs. R. Elton Drum, secretary; Mrs. A. B. Ward, treasurer. The organization is affiliated with the State Federation of Women's Clubs and Mrs. Eva Graham Scott is the delegate this year to its sessions.

MONESSEN TO SEND BIG DELEGATION

A number of Monessen Republicans are making arrangements to go to Jeannette this evening to attend the reception and demonstration to be given to John K. Tener, Republican candidate for Governor, who will speak there tonight The Monessen crowd will leave on the 4:30 train over the P. and L. E. railroad which connects at Braddock with the main line of the Pennsylvania and gets to Jeanette at 6 in the evening. Returning the last train leaves Jeannette at about 10 and connects with the Owl train at Braddock.

MINE HAS TO CLOSE; LACK OF FLATS CAUSE

Pittsburg Harbors and Landings Along Local River Congested With no Promise of Immediate Relief.

According to reports another mine along the valley, the Eclipse, has been forced to close through inability to secure flats on which to load coal There has been no boating stage in the Ohio river for weeks. Coal has been loaded into all the available craft and they are now being held in the Pittsburg harbor and along the valley awaiting a rise.

A large number of men will be thrown out of employment for the time being at the Eclipse mine. Other mines along the river, it is stated, are closed down. In the Monongahela river there is a nine foot stage of water the year around, making shipments of coal possible at all time but in the Ohio there is no lock and dam system that coal can be sent out only at period of high water.

PIONEER RESIDENT DIES THIS MORNING

Jesse Ruggles Succumbs After Many Years' Illness.

The funeral will be held Monday from the McMahon residence on Crest avenue near Ninth street at an hour as yet undecided, the services to be conducted by Rev. J. T. Hackett of the First Presbyterian church.

TEACHING GERMAN WITH NEW METHOD

High School Instructor Obtains Best of Results Through Originality

To obtain the best results in the teaching of the German language in high school, a combination of methods used most effectively in colleges and other institutions, has been adopted much of which was originated by Miss Mary Walters, the German instrutor. Miss Walters has under her instruction a class of twelve beginners in German, composing the senior class of high school. These she has started on reading exercises without taking up the grammar, with a view of getting the pupils to master the pronounciation, before they begin work on the latter. This Miss Walters denotes "the study of German for the language's sake. By this method and by the conversational method she hopes to establish a far greater interest among the students than could otherwise be obtained. In college and academies it is the custom to start pupils on the study of grammar before they take up reading and pronunciation.

SCOTTDALE GAS COMPANY ANGRY

Threatens to Shut Off Supply to Consumers if Affairs Aren't Righted.

The Fayette County Gas company has notified the borough council of Scottdale that the directors of the company "consider it inexpedient to furnish gas to the residents of Scottdale under the existing agreement," and that the gas will be shut of December 16. Under the present agreement the company is required to furnish gas at a uniform rate of 25 cents a thousand feet.

The company recently raised the price to 30 cents and the matter is to be taken into court in an effort to have the company live up to its original agreement. This latest notice is considered an attempt to head off the proposed legal proceeding, or to get a new agreement. Practically every family in the borough uses gas.

Hunters Cause Land Owners Much Annoyance.

INSUFFICIENT PROTECTION

Little Recourse Now For Damages Done to Farms and Live Stock.

With the opening of the hunting season begins trouble for farmers and land owners, owing to trespassing on the part of hunters Not only are the farmers of this community subject to untold annoyance on the part of trespass, but their property is damaged and in many instances the lives of the owners and their live stock is endangered by reckless shooting. All the recourse the farmer has is prosecution under the trespass laws of the State, which requires a warrant, and as most trespassers are unknown and escape before information can be made against them, the farmers in most instances are powerless to protect their property.

To meet this emergency the State Department of Agriculture has recommended to the farmers that they advocate the passage of a Gun License Law, which will provide that every person carrying a gun in the State must pay a small license fee, of perhaps one dollar, for the privilege of so doing, and that when hunting he must carry this license, giving his name and address, and must show it on request of every property owner on whose premises he hunts The proposed law absolutely forbids carrying firearms by unnaturalized foreigners and boys under 16 years of age. It would also provide that no one could enter upon the premises of another to hunt without written permission from the owner.

The present law defines trespass as entering upon another person's posted premises, and imposes a penalty of $10 for so doing. However, it is necessary for the notice to contain the words "This is private property," and also give warning against trespassing under penalty of the law. Damage is not necessary as a basis for action for trespass, but there are some peculiar conditions at present which are unfavorable to the farmer. He must know the name of the trespasser and procure a warrant for his arrest. He does not receive any part of the $10 fine, if the suit is successful, but if he should lose he must pay the costs. The fine goes to the school fund instead of the Game Commission.

Under the proposed law refusal to show his license by the hunter would give legal authority at once for the farmer or land owner to lay hands upon him and forcibly detain or arrest him without a warrant, with penalty of $25, part of which would go to the land owner. A Gun License Law is now in successful operation in every State but 12, and it is believed that the enactment of the proposed law in this State will make fairer conditions to both true sportsmen and property owners.

The Bryan Candidate

That the third party has made no headway in this campaign is not at all surprising By its profession of principles it has followed nobody and there are many potent reasons why the people will not vote for its candidate for Governor, William H. Berry, should he decide to remain on the ticket.

For instance, imagine a Bryan Democrat Governor of this State. Mr. Berry is that sort of Democrat and does not hesitate to say so. Of course, Bryan is down and out. The people attended to his case long ago. But many of the things for which Bryan stood are still to be reckoned with. Mr. Berry was so enthusiastic over Bryan that he was a candidate for Congress on a Bryan platform. In his public utterances in this campaign he repeatedly had stated that he is a Democrat. He was highly gratified over the result of the election in Maine, where Republican factionalism enabled the Democrats to elect their State ticket and a legislature which will choose a Democratic United States Senator. Mr. Berry has a perfect right to indorse the principles of the Bryan Democracy, but having done this, why should he expect Republicans to vote for him?

Will any sensible Republican vote for the Bryan candidate for Governor? Will any sensible Republican vote for Bryan Democratic candidates for Congress and the State Legislature, whom Mr. Berry has indorsed? Does any sensible Republican know of a reason why he should vote the Keystone ticket for any candidate on that ticket? The Republicans present as their candidates men, who, without exception, admittedly are qualified for the offices for which they have been nominated. They are public spirted citizens of high character and they have the confidence of the people. They stand upon a model Republican platform and their election will insure a continuance of good government in this State.

A vote for the Keystone ticket will be a vote for the Democratic party. In nearly every Congressional district the third party has indorsed Democratic candidates. Mr. Berry and his associates are endeavoring to elect members of Congress who will assist Champ Clark and other National Democratic leaders in their plans to "reduce the tariff to a revenue basis." Pennsylvania wants precious little tariff reduction by the Democratic party. From every viewpoint the best interests of this State demand that Mr. Berry shall be elected to stay at home by a very large majority.

Unmasked

Now that W. H. Berry, Keystone candidate for Governor, has signified his willingness to withdraw in case a deal can be made with the Democratic party, by which only one ticket will appear in the field, his purpose is fully revealed. Personlly Mr. Berry is a Democrat, and when it became apparent beyond the question of a doubt that the cause of the Keystone party is so absolutely hopeless as to become ridiculous, Mr. Berry and his supporters have decided to turn their forces over to the Democratic party if a satisfactory deal can be made that will retain Mr. Berry on the ticket in a lower capacity than as Governor. A conference of the Democratic and Keystone executive committees is being held in Philadelphia today to try to effect fusion

This reveals more fully the purport and intent of the malcontents who engineered the Keystone movement. Their sole purpose was to try to defeat the Republican ticket because of personal disappointments and rancors. By tying up with the Democrat party they have no isues but the Democratic platform to make a fight on and this is not conducive to the industrial conditions of the State. Free trade and tariff for revenue only will not be accepted by the voters of the Commonwealth. Under the guise of turning the Republicans out of the control of State affairs Mr. Berry and his following hope to capture a member of Congressmen in the State who will be committed to the policy of free trade. For that reason the Keystone party indorsed Democratic Congressmen wherever they had a chance.

The Keystone party has no issue but opposition. That is why they now propose going over to the Democratic party. They are not for anything: they are simply against things that are.

A Gun License

The proposition of the State Agricultural Department that farmers and sportsmen advocate the passage of an act requiring a license for carrying a gun or firearms for hunting purposes, should command the thoughtful attention of all interested persons. To the disinterested ones it looks like a good proposition for the protection of farmers and property owners, and the fact that such a law is in successful operation in all but twelve of the States inclines one to the belief that there is merit in the proposition.

One of the objections that is likely to be interposed is an interference with and an abridgement of personal rights and liberties. The United States constitution give citizens the rights to bear arms, but it does not specify time, place nor condition. When the right to bear arms very materially interferes with the property rights of others, and endangers life besides, it is time to interpose restriction. This the various states have the right to do, and it is in this interest that the proposed gun license law is advocated for this State.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

I never saw a purple cow,
I don't expect to see one;
But from the milk I'm drinking now.
I know that there must be one.

Insanity offers a mighty poor excuse for some people committing crimes.

It's a question just how many working children really work.

As an able reflector of Acheson's political dope the Canonsburg Notes might more fittingly be called the Canonsburg "Echo."

Mr. Acheson's morning paper, "The Observer, and his evening paper, The Reporter" doesn't think Mr. Tener is fit to be Governor, yet Mr. Acheson himself, who consented to Monongahela becoming wet, more than once aspired to the nomination for Governor.

Up in Greene county, the home of the narrow gauge, for style they call one or two of the trains which manage to wiggle daily between Waynesburg and Washington, "express" trains. What grounds they have for that is beyond us.

Col. Roosevelt believes in the Republicans turning their own rascals out. That's what they did in Washington county two years ago.

Former Congressman Acheson doesn't like Pennsylvania's primary law. No wonder. It lost him his job.

"Another milkman charged with selling bad milk" states a headline. Just another one

Charleroi will feel terribly insulted if William Berry passes us by. The people want to see if he curls his mustache as pictured.

The Repbulican party hasn't E. F. Acheson's support, but it has his goat all right.

Gibboney, who is alleged to be an attorney out in Philadelphia, has a job, so of course it is not to be expected that he can carry on his campaign effectively.

The Cry of the Age is "Back to the Farm"

With the best market in the world at his door, the intensive farmer located in the Monongahela valley is the wise man of his generation.

Every town has as much need of the small truck, fruit and poultry farms around it as it has for more factories. Such farms make living better and cheaper for the laboring man and more business for the merchant.

I have secured control of a large farm within five minutes walk of the borough limits and will, within the next six weeks, sell it out in small farms. I now have purchasers for about one-half of it and owing to the great demand for small farms near Charleroi expect to close all sales for these farms in a very short time.

A farm big enough for all the boys to work as a truck, poultry and fruit farm while the father works at the mill, can be bought for the price of a cheap town lot. Good country school nearby.

A farm big enough to require the whole time of one intensive farmer can be bought for $500.00. Read the Pittsburg papers about the great land show which will be held there within the next few weeks and learn what can be raised on a few acres of ground by the new methods of intensive farming.

Call at the office of Charles O. Frye, 511 Washington Avenue, and get full particulars.

SPELLING BEE IS A FEATURE

With the spelling bee as the feature an old fashioned literary society social was held by the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church last night at the church. The affair was well attended and a snug sum was realized. A literary program of much merit was rendered as follows:

Piano duet—Misses Elma Lutes and Rosa Vetter.
Dialogue—Miss Florence Crill, Miss Winifred Martin, Lou Mitchel.

The spelling bee was conducted by W. A. Swick of the high school, and D. S. Willard, the high school principal succeeded in spelling all down, carrying off the honors for his side. Refreshments were served by the social committee of which Miss Mildred Lowstutes is chairman.

GOOD SHOW COMING TO COYLE THEATRE

Great interest is being evinced in the coming engagement of the "Rajah of Bhong company" which will play at the Coyle Theatre first three days beginning October 3. Coming as it does from the big time and presenting an array of talent never before seen at popular prices, Manager Penman is to be congratulated upon securing attractions of this class. James T. Crowley is America's foremost exponent of German Comedy, being entirely away from the many so-called German Comedians now playing this time. A. H. Steppe is one of the coming Hebrew Comedians, his clever work causing favorable comment whenever seen. Miss Georgia Ahl will be seen as the Princess. Her charming personality and natural ability as a performr caused her to rank high in her chosen profession. The Four Dancing Ponies, in their novelty electrical act entitled the "Bathing Girls" present one of the most novel acts ever seen in vaudeville. The performance will conclude with the "Rajah of Bhong," which will be presented with entire strength of the company. This little musical comedy is described by all to be a sure cure for the blues. 46t1

Legally Better Off.

The creditors of the ancient king had become so unpleasantly insistent that he resolved to put them where they could trouble him no more. So he invited them to a great banquet, and when they had feasted and drunk of his prepared wine he instructed his servants to convey them to his deepest dungeons. And the next morning when he went down to learn whether his servants had done his bidding his creditors raised their voices and entreated to be set free. But he remonstrated with them, saying:

"My friends, you have no just cause for complaint. Are you not better off in the eye of the law than ever before? Any lawyer will tell you that a secured creditor has an exceptional cinch." Then he left them and went on his gladsome way, happy in the knowledge that he could at last go through his dominions without being dunned.—Chicago News.

Masculine Music.

The musical doctor stepped into the shop.

His hair stuck out like stiff straws, and his joy of life was under his arm; also two buttons on his waistcoat were undone. So there was no doubt about his being a genius.

"Aha, ahem, ahum!" purred the musical doctor. "E string for a violin, please."

The man behind the counter looked flustered. He went to the shelf, took off a small packet, examined it carefully, examined it again and then hesitatingly returned to the customer.

"I beg your pardon, sir," he began diffidently, "but this 'appens to be my first day in the shop, and yer might give me a little 'elp. The fact is these 'ere strings look all alike to me,—an' I can't tell the 'es from the shes!"—London Globe.

Firearms in Russia.

As an illustration of how closely everything is watched in Russia, take its system of registering firearms. When a weapon of any kind is purchased a permit must be secured from the local authorities. The name of the man who makes the purchase with the number of the weapon, is recorded. If the purchaser ever wants to dispose of the weapon he must notify the authorities and cause the transfer to be recorded on the books of the firm which sold it.

"Pins and Needles"

After being for a long time in a strained attitude a peculiar numbness and pricking are often felt in the leg or foot. This is caused by some interruption to the circulation and can usually be removed by rubbing or exercise. The reason of the sensation, which is decidedly uncomfortable while it lasts, is that pressure for a certain length of time deadens the sensibility of a nerve. When this pressure is suddenly removed, as straightening out the leg after sitting with it doubled underneath the body, sensibility gradually returns to the nerve, and as each nerve fiber composing the trunk regains its normal condition of sensibility a pricking sensation is felt, and these successive prickings from the successive awakenings of the numerous fibers have not inaptly been called "pins and needles."

The Prayer That Hurt.

A member of a certain Massachusetts parish prominent for his thrift and personal consequence was also notorious for his overbearing assumptions and pompous airs. Under the distress and fright of a dangerous illness he "put up notes" on several successive Sundays, and after his recovery, according to usage, he offered a note to be read by the minister expressive of his thanks. The minister was somewhat "large" in this part of his prayer, recalling the danger and the previous petitions of the "squire" and returning his grateful acknowledgments with the prayer that the experience might be blessed to the spiritual welfare of the restored man. He closed with these words:

"And we pray, O Lord, that thy servant may be cured of that ungodly strut, so offensive in the sanctuary."

DIFFERENCES IN FOGS.

Sea Mist and London Gloom Have Nothing In Common.

The fog of London and the fog of the sea alike discompose traffic, and omnibuses and steamships alike have had to lay to for safety. But while the London fog gets into your inmost [illegible] and gives even the [illegible] —though the candle comes out triumphant curiously—the fog at sea does not disturb the saloon or the stateroom. Why is that?

The word "fog" has not been traced further back than the sixteenth century, but the thing was known in the early years of the fourteenth. The commons, with the prelates and nobles visiting London for the parliaments and on other occasions, united to petition Edward I. to compel the burning only of dry wood and charcoal, as the growing use of sea coal corrupted the air with its stink and smoke, to the great prejudice and detriment of health. In 1308 the king prohibited the use of coal. Heavy ransom and fines were inflicted for disobedience. In the case of recalcitrant brewers, dyers and other artificers the furnaces and kilns were destroyed. But the restriction was evidently removed, for in 1308 £250—probably equal to about $4,000 now—was paid from the exchequer for wood and coal for the coronation of Edward II.—London Graphic.

Conscience is not an indicator of what is right. That is the province of wisdom based on knowledge. Conscience is the divine imperative impelling us to do what we believe to be right.

A whole lot of people never blame the fool for parting from his money until after it is all gone.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Your Breakfast Room Made Comfortable With Fuel Supplied the Night Before

Cole's Hot Blast Heater maintains a continuous fire—also a steady even heat. It will hold fire from Saturday night until Monday morning (48 hours) without attention. It will hold fire over night with less coal than any other stove.

Open the drafts in the morning and the rooms are quickly heated with the fuel put in the night before. No other stove does this.

Burns Soft Coal, Slack, Siftings, Hard Coal or Lignite. One ton of either kind of fuel goes further and gives you more comfort than two tons, using any other kind or make of stove.

Your attention is called to the unparalleled statement made by the manufacturer of

Cole's Hot Blast Heating Stove

"For several years we have authorized our Agents to sell Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater on the guarantee as follows:

"1—A saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size, with soft coal, slack or lignite.
"2—That Cole's Hot Blast will use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner made with the same size fire pot.
"3—That the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning with the soft coal or hard coal put in the stove the evening before.
"4—That the stove will hold fire with soft coal from Saturday night until Monday morning.
"5—A uniform heat day and night, with soft coal, hard coal or lignite.
"6—That every stove will remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.
"7—That the feed-door is and will remain smoke and dust-proof.
"8—That the Anti-Puffing Draft will prevent puffing.
"All we ask is that the stove shall be operated according to directions and connected with a good flue.
"(Signed) COLE MANUFACTURING CO., Not Inc."
(Makers of the Original Patented Hot Blast Stove.)

This remarkable guarantee from the makers of this stove should be of interest to you if you contemplate buying a heating stove.

Years of use has proven that no heater—at twice the price—equals it for radiating heat, for holding fire, requiring so little attention, never giving trouble, and cutting down your coal bill one-third to one-half.

Come in and examine Cole's Original Hot Blast which is now imitated by nearly every other stove manufacturer. Price $12.00 and upward, according to size.

No other Heater Nearly as Good.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure Send for circulars, free.

Albani and Gye.

The story of Mme. Albani's first London engagement is as follows Colonel Mapleson heard of her singing at a theater at Malta, and, thinking that she would be successful, he made her an offer through an agent of a contract to sing in Her Majesty's theater. She agreed to it and went to London, but on arriving there she told the cabman to drive her to the Italian opera house. He, instead of going to Her Majesty's, took her to Covent Garden, which was also devoted to Italian opera. She was shown up to the manager's office and stated that she had come to sign the contract which Mr. Mapleson had offered her. Mr Gye, thinking to play a joke on his rival, Mapleson, made out a contract, and Albani signed it. Mr. Gye then told her that he was not Colonel Mapleson, but that he could do much better by her. He offered to tear up the contract if she liked, but told her that Nilsson was singing at Her Majesty's and would brook no rival. Albani decided to let the contract stand and thus became one of the stars of Covent Gardens, eventually marrying the son of Mr Gye

His Final Plea.

A Chicago man appealed at the White House one day during the McKinley administration with a petition containing 7,000 names recommending him for appointment as Brazilian minister He was a picture framer, and when he was admitted to the room he took along his petition and stood everybody in the picture frame business to stand in one corner, [illegible]

The man was persistent and finally decided the president. Always polite and considerate, President McKinley [illegible], said to the candidate that he would have to consult the Illinois senators and representatives about the matter before making the appointment

"You know," said the president, "we have to select big men for these big places"

"Well," asked the picture framer "won't I be just as big as any of them if I get the job?"—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

The Lost Umbrella.

"I have been coming here for my lunch for years [illegible] never again," said a man to the head waiter of a downtown restaurant recently "Sorry," began the waiter "Sorry nothing I [illegible] here for five years [illegible] ago [illegible] "Well [illegible] "Well, dearie will you sell him to me? I'll give you $1 for every ounce he weighs."

"No, I won't!" answered the angel child.

"Dear, loyal little sister!" beamed the visitor. "And why not?"

"Because," answered the tiny tot, with a quivering lip—"because he only weighs six pounds Come back next month an' I'll see if we can't make a deal"—Cleveland Leader.

His Weak Point.

A man who takes a business view of things when recently asked his opinion of a person of quite a poetic temperament replied:

"Oh, he's one of those men who have soarings after the infinite and divings after the unfathomable, but who never pay cash"

The Case Altered.

Brown—Is it correct to speak of a man as "of the male persuasion?"

Jones—Yes, if the subject is not married.

"What has that to do with the matter?"

"Why, when he is married his wife persuades him."

SAVED DAUGHTERS LIFE

This Father Refused to Let His Daughter Die

Here is a story with a moral that many parents might take to heart.

"My daughter was very pale, nervous, thin and suffered with severe pain in her back, so that we took her out of school. Her flesh became blue and she could not retain her urine. I spent over $100 for medicines, but she grew worse. Finally I bought a bottle of Thompson's Barosma and she began to grow better right away. Five bottles of Thompson's Barosma made a complete cure, and today she is a perfectly healthy girl. Thompson's Barosma saved her life, for she was failing so fast that death was not far off."—Frank D. Meede, Pleasantville, Pa.

This letter will not surprise many good people in Charleroi and vicinity who know from actual expeience what Thompson's Barosma, the safe and sane treatment and certain cure for all kidney, liver and bladder diseases will do.

If you are troubled with backache, sideache, weakness in the back, or any liver or kidney trouble, then it's time for Thompson's Barosma.

W. F Hennings sells Thompson's Barosma in two sizes, 50 cents and $1 00 and he guarantees it to cure Bright's disease, diabetes, high colored urine, bed wetting, and all other kidney and liver diseses. It will make anyone vigorous in a few weeks, because it is a great tonic and maker of rich red blood.
